Health, Safety, Quality & Environment

Quality of life is governed by concerns for health, safety and environment of our employees, our clients and our society. Work safety is not only a priority it is a value, and from the top to down we take our values seriously.

The USC considers these to be of utmost importance in its entire works, the corporation ensures that all employees adhere to safety measures and practices. Appropriate gear and tools are used to ensure the safety of employees working in all areas.

From upper management to our newest employee we continue to train and update our work safety program ensuring the protection of our team and clients. Our commitment to our employees and clients alike continues to grow in promoting safety and health.

corporation ownership and the board of directors throughout our entire team, work safety is a value that will not be compromised.

Our record is living proof that we will continue to do our best at preventing unforeseen incidents that we all know can cause an immense amount of suffering and loss.

All engineering design – particularly of Substations, towers caters to the safety aspect of all future users. These include proper railings, rest platforms, ladders, ladder supports, lightning protection, earthing/ grounding, aircraft warning lights, etc.

In addition, the corporation provides insurance cover for all vehicles and property owned by the corporation, and caters to workmen's compensation. All debris from construction sites is disposed-off in a proper manner so as not to damage the environment in any way.

Health, Safety, Quality & Environment

Any metal parts that are unused or made unusable are then recycled through proper scrap dealers.

Precaution is taken against polluting underground water resources, and all wastewater is disposed-off in a proper manner through sewage treatment. We hope that our small efforts will have some impact in educating the masses for a cleaner and healthier environment.

Competence, technical capability, professional and careful management of works, have allowed us to improve competitiveness and satisfy CUSTOMERS.

Our business environment – highly competitive – pushes us to constantly improve Quality to obtain higher performances. Our personnel are committed to comply with scheduled times, to overcome inefficiency and/or obstacles in organization interface to provide services fully suitable to Customers' expectations.

Code of Ethics

The USC is convinced that Ethical Conducting of business and management of one's activities and internal and public relations are essential tools for building the corporation's image and reputation and achieving its strategic goals and therefore attaining success.

The Code of Ethics is therefore the formal expression of the value in which the corporation believes and the rules that all USC employees and associates are required to follow in the context of their functions and responsibilities.

The basic ethical principles characterizing The USC code of conduct may be summed up as follows:

Why Us?

Since our founding in 2010, we've delivered a lot of projects across KSA and counting. That's a decade of driving innovation that makes construction easy for you.

How do we do it? It's a get-it-done attitude. "The job is the boss"— you'll hear that a lot from us. By learning your needs and pains, we design and build spaces that accomplish your goals while staying within scope. No project is too big or too small for our team.

THANK YOU!
